

PRESS RELEASE 4th April 2011

Citation plc teams up with The Dentistry Business

Leading consultants in all aspects of Personnel, Employment Law and Health and Safety compliance, Citation plc has worked with The Dentistry Business to produce a comprehensive CQC compliance solution for dentists and practice managers enabling them to achieve and maintain ongoing CQC compliance.

Already familiar with the healthcare market, including nursing homes, Citation plc is well versed in the requirements of CQC; and for their dental clients, they wanted to provide an accurate assessment of how compliance with the new body could be assured and maintained. So, using the skills of dentists Lester Ellman and Carl Parnell, both Partners in The Dentistry Business, Citation plc has created a “dentist’s-eye” view of the new regulations and provides practical advice and guidance on the various policies required for compliance.

Damian Wasey, Relationship Director at Citation plc commented, “At Citation plc, we are always looking to nurture mutually rewarding partnerships with other organisations and businesses. After feedback from our dental clients we saw an opportunity to support our dental clients with relevant information for achieving and maintaining CQC compliance and what better way than to enlist the support of two practising dentists with a wealth of experience in clinical governance and business management. Our relationship with The Dentistry Business has been extremely fruitful; their knowledge in this area is exceptional and, with their help, we have produced a comprehensive solution.”
